The grapes for this wine come from plots located on the banks of the Cabriel river. These are Verdejo grape plantations on grafted old vines of the Garnacha variety. At the time of harvest when harvesting the plot, garnacha grapes have been found that in the maceration process have given this wine the pink color.

TASTING NOTES: Pale pink in colour, it has an exquisite bouquet of fennel and tropical fruit over a base of red fruits. There is striking freshness in the mouth, and an integrated tanginess. A fragrant, very aromatic wine.
